How to best meet the needs of people who 'fall through the gaps'

Friday September 11th, 10 -4 pm. Toynbee Hall
28 Commercial Street, London, E1 6LS

A free networking day hosted by Providence Row Housing Association
Link Workers & Looking Out projects on Friday 11th September

Join agencies from Tower Hamlets, City & Hackney in a series of interactive workshops in which we will look at positive solutions to working with people with complex multiple needs.

Using real life stories, facilitated by actors, we will bring to life the experiences of users of our services.

Come together to discuss how we can improve joint-working, develop services & outcomes both for service users & agencies.

Why you should attend

You'll have the opportunity to:

- Network with agencies & commissioners from the boroughs of Tower Hamlets & City & Hackney (housing, drugs & alcohol services, mental health, offenders services, police, courts, JCP, & many more)
- Work creatively together to find solutions for complex cases
- Make links & improve working relationships with other agencies
- Share ideas & recommendations for policy & practice
- Find out all about the work of PRHA offender services
- The day will be fun & interactive – not just a dull training day!
- It's FREE & a delicious lunch will be provided!

Friday September 11th, 10 - 4pm
Toynbee Hall, 28 Commercial Street, London E1 6LS
(easily accessible by public transport)
